TRUST DESCRIPTION

The Diversified Real Asset Collective Trust (the "Trust") is an actively managed portfolio designed to provide strategic exposure to three core real assets: Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities ("TIPS"), commodities, and real estate. The Trust seeks to achieve its objective by investing under normal circumstances substantially all of its assets in units of the PIMCO Real Return Collective Trust, the PIMCO CommoditiesPLUS® Collective Trust, and the PIMCO RealEstatePLUS Collective Trust (the "Underlying Trusts"). The Trust benchmark is 40% Bloomberg U.S. TIPS Index, 25% Bloomberg Commodity IndexSM, and 35% Dow Jones U.S. Real Estate Investment Trust Index. The Trust and Underlying Trusts are not mutual funds. SEI Trust Company serves as the trustee of the Trust and maintains ultimate fiduciary authority over the management of, and investments made in, the Trust. The trustee has engaged PIMCO to act as investment adviser to the Trust. The Trust is part of a collective investment trust that is exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

INVESTOR BENEFITS

This Trust offers investors "3-in-1" exposure to three core real assets represented by Underlying Trusts, and actively manages each in an effort to provide real return potential for investors. The active management decisions are driven by PIMCO's "top down" and "bottom up" investment process.

Potential benefits of this Trust include:

- Inflation Hedging Strategies: TIPS, commodities, and real estate have returns that are either contractually or economically related to inflation and therefore may be used to potentially hedge future inflation risk
- Diversification: Real assets returns respond differently to changing macroeconomic factors and micro factors than do core stocks and bonds and therefore may provide portfolio diversification
- Actively Managed Exposures: The underlying TIPS, commodities, and real estate portfolios of the Underlying Trusts are each actively managed in an effort to provide returns relative to each asset class's respective benchmark

THE TRUST ADVANTAGE

The Trust combines the strategic investment opportunities of real assets with the investment management expertise of PIMCO. As a pioneer in fixed income, real return, and asset allocation, PIMCO is positioned to help integrate these core competencies in the context of the Diversified Real Asset strategy. Fixed income and real return expertise are essential to obtaining exposure to the real asset classes within the Trust and actively managing them in an effort to enhance return potential.

VALUE OF INFLATION PROTECTION STRATEGIES

An allocation to PIMCO inflation-protection strategies may be beneficial as part of a diversified portfolio. Real assets, which include inflation-linked bonds, commodities, and real estate, tend to exhibit a positive correlation to inflation. By contrast, traditional assets such as stocks and bonds have historically underperformed when inflation has surprised to the upside. The benefit of this positive correlation to inflation is that real assets can potentially improve portfolio diversification, help hedge inflation risk, and help preserve enhance and preserve the future purchasing power of investments.

The Trust incurs other expenses in addition to management fees, which could reduce the Trust's performance relative to the performance shown in the chart. A word about risk: The Trust's investment performance depends on how its assets are allocated and reallocated between the Underlying Trusts according to the Trust's asset allocation target and range. Because the Trust invests all of its assets in Underlying Trusts, the risks associated with investing in the Trust are closely related to the risks associated with the securities and other investments held by the Underlying Trusts. Investing in the bond market is subject to certain risks including market, interest-rate, issuer, credit, and inflation risk; investments may be worth more or less than the original cost when redeemed. Inflation-linked bonds (ILBs) issued by a government are fixed-income securities whose principal value is periodically adjusted according to the rate of inflation; ILBs decline in value when real interest rates rise. REITs are subject to risk, such as poor performance by the manager, adverse changes to tax laws, or failure to qualify for tax-free pass-through of income. Commodities contain heightened risk including market, political, regulatory, and natural conditions, and may not be suitable for all investors. Derivatives and commodity-linked derivatives may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit, management, and the risk that a position could not be closed when most advantageous. Commodity-linked derivative instruments may involve additional costs and risks such as changes in commodity index volatility or factors affecting a particular industry or commodity, such as drought, floods, weather, livestock disease, embargoes, tariffs, and international economic, political, and regulatory developments. Investing in derivatives could lose more than the amount invested. Diversification does not ensure against loss.

Effective duration is the duration for a bond with an embedded option when the value is calculated to include the expected change in cash flow caused by the option as interest rates change.
